

Job assessment of the graduated persons of technical and the profession university faculties of Khuzestan in the 2016-2017 educational years

Received: 28.11.2018

Accepted:14.02.2018

Abstract

The purpose of this study is to evaluate the output of selected students of Khuzestan technical and vocational colleges .

The statistical population of this study consists of 380 graduates of Khuzestan Technical and Vocational colleges that from these people and using a stratified sampling method that its classes are fields, 100 students are as statistical samples .

A questionnaire was used to collect data and information. After selecting the sample, the questionnaires distributed and after collecting data through the software Spss have been analyzed. Statistical methods are descriptive and inferential. In the descriptive section, frequency and percentage were calculated and Chi-square nonparametric tests were used to test the questions. In summary, the results of this research show that the employment status of men graduates of selected fields of the Khuzestan Technical and Vocational Schools is well-suited to comparison with other universities and fields. Also, the relationship between the field of study of the men graduates of selected fields is high and various methods have been used to finding job for graduates in the studied fields, which describes the practical training of education course was very effective in the job success for the graduates .

Keywords: Colleges of Technical and Vocational, Graduated persons, Rate of employment, Technical skills.

* Corresponding author: eng.m.moradi1985@gmail.com